GENERAL STRIKE

BUSINESS MAY BE BROUGHT TO A STANDSTILL.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE ACTS.

The Majority of the Quay Laborers Have Obeyed the Call to Quit Work.

HAMBURG, Dec. 4.-At a meeting of the Central Strike Committee here to-day it was decided to declare a general strike, and a pamphlet was issued calling upon all quay laborers, engineers, bargemen lumpers and carmen to quit work in order to bring the business of the port to a com-plete standstill. The majority of the quay laborers have obeyed the call and the remainder will probably quit work to-day. A detachment of 200 police from Berlin has seen ordered to this city to assist the local force in maintaining order during the strike. would sink her in short order."

The United States battleship Texas, which has cost the Government 4.125,000 already and is still costing, is thus described by a maval expert. The secret of that long list of accidents which have given to this monstrous failure the sobriquet of the "Jonah of the Navy," is out at last. Incompetency, jealousies, fraud, combined in the conception and construction of this utterly worthless mass of time and the trickery of an alien—an expert in the employ of a rival maritime power—make up the sad history of the battleship Texas, a ship that could not stand the sea, much less a battle.

Yet only recently Secretary of the Navy Herbert declared that the vessel was all right and would prove a credit to the navy. Men from the Construction and Steam Engineering departments were still at work in the interior of the vessel all day yesterday. She will remain here for some time. It is a current rumor in the navy yard, among the officers, that the ship will shortly be put out of commission and her officers and crew transferred to other ships. This great man-of-war can pever be counted among the list of battleships of the United States.

While the council was in session, and the members were dilating on the good of the order, and the virtues of temperance, there was an apparition of blue and silver tinsel at the door. The poor fellow lost all his starch and a footpad could have sandbagged him with a feather. He twirled his helmet on his finger like a schoolboy about to be whipped and looked around for the royal bumper whose horns might send him to kingdom come. "Sit down," said Mr. Hunt, and the policeman obeyed, as if Chief Harrigan or Capt. Joyce had given the command.

"Take off your coat," was the next order, and the blue jacket was laid aside, after the policeman had wriggled a little in his chiair.

Although every detective and police officer had been instructed to arrest De Pue on sight, he walked the streets at will for over a week before being apprehended.

Peitzsch was known to have been a man of loose morals and his alleged intimacy with two women in whom De Pue has a deep interest is thought to have inspired in the latter a feeling of hatred and desire for revenge.

The house is colonial, surrounded by pines, elms and spacious lawns, neatly trimmed walks and driveways. However, its size is not extraordinary, it being 50x50 feet with an "L" 25x25. A wide hall runs through the center and there are fifteen rooms. It is two and a half stories high, has a good basement and is built of brick and stone with a stucco finish. The place has flower gardens, vegstable gardens, gardener's house and well-appointed stables. It was built in 1850 by Commodore Stockton.

William C. Whitney and his bride have a new million-dollar mapsion at Fifth avenue and Sixty-eighth street, New York. The purchase price with the improvements will probably exceed $1,000,000. The ex-Secretary has had his own good taste for his guide in the remodeling of his new home. The principal divisions of the first floor are a great picture gallery running the entire width of the house at the back; a great hallway that extends from the picture gallery to the front door; a dining-room, superb in proportion and decorations, in which there is ample accommodation for sixty persons, and to which a huge bay window lets in a flood of light; a great drawing-room and a noble library. When the folding doors between the three rooms are thrown open there is an unbroken space that will furnish room for the largest assemblage of persons ever gathered dogether in a private house. Opposite the library is another room from which a fine staircase ascends to the family apartments upstairs. The house is constructed of brown stone and is five stories high. Its architecture is peculiar but handsome, its most striking feature being a great dome that comes out of the roof. Mrs. Whitney as mistress of this palace will have opportunity to eccupy the position, apparently reserved for her, as queen of New York's best society.

BOSS" FILLEY AS A REFORMER

AN EARLY THRUST AT ZIEGEN-HEIN AND HIS GANG.

COMPETENT MEN IN OFFICE.

Turn Down of Judge Finkelnburg Makes the Old Man "Talk Like a Civic Federationist."

Chauncey Ives Filley has a new pose. He Is going to be a reformer. Purity in politics will be his new watchword.

It is the old story about "when the devil was sick the devil a month of the devil was sick the devil a monk would be." Mr. Filley is physically ill and has had ample opportunity for reflection and repentance ctically Mr. Filley, who is the Republican party in Missouri, is suffering a bad attack of indigestion, the result of swal-lowing a lot of rotten judicial candidates at the recent election.

Mr. Filley has been figuring on the outcome of the late election. In a municipal election, with the money question eliminated, the city is not a Republican strong old. The scratching of the Merchan League slate in favor of such good men as Judges Edmunds, Harvey and Dillon in crucial an event as a national election is in incident of terrible import.

These things impressed Mr. Filley and he

These things impressed Mr. Filley and he has worded a sengthy screed on reform out of his typewriter. The School Board, the recent election and the coming spring campaign are couched upon in fearless fashion by the boss.

His public letter has given great joy to the Civic Federationists. Whether he meant it or not, the "old man" has aligned himself with them and some of his phrases are an echo of their literature.

Touching on the School Board he dischalms all credit or blame for having had anything to do with it since 1878. Of course, he blames the Democrats for all the scandal in the board.

Mr. Filley talks like a Civic Federationist when he says, "There are as good, honest men in the School Board as in any other board, but there is so much rottenness in it that the just has been mixed up with the unjust."

This 's even better: "The control of the State of the ness in it that the just has been mixed up with the unjust."

This is even better: "The control of the School Board and of public education in St. Louis should be taken out of the hands of the contractors. The Board needs—and has for years needed—reorganizing from top to bottom, as presently legalized, as above public control and a faw into itself."
Mr. Filley takes a few shots at the Democrats over the management of the Police Board and the Mullanphy Board and then comes down to his own party. He says:
"It was agreed at a conference at my house two nights before the Regrubilean City Convention to nominate Hon. G. A. Finkedphurg for Circuit Judge for the long term. Those who interfered with that agreement can now see their mistake. It is about time for political aspirants to see and realize that they cannot cross public sentiment without making the party suffer for it. Public party sentiment is neither to be coaxed, driven or purchased.

This will be pretty reading for Ziegenhein, Zachritz, Eggers and their gang, whose test of finess for office has been unswerving fealty, in the face of law and order, to the gang.

Mr. Filley has "one word more." Another gang.

Mr. Filley has "one word more." Another slap at Ziegenhein and the push. "I have no slate for the spring election for Mayor or anything else. But I am for competent and reliable Republicans who will recollect that they were nominated because of their competency and ability to conduct their offices, just as well if not a little better than any Democrat has or can, and to first do their duty to their public trust, and second, their duty to their public trust, and second, their duty to their party and its zealous promoters, who reposed confidence enough in them to nominate and elect them."

and reliable Republicans who will recollect that they were nominated because of their competency and ability to conduct their offices, just as well if and a little better than any Democrat has or can, and to first do their duty to their public trust, and second, their duty to their public trust, and second, their duty to their party and its zeal-ous promoters, who reposed confidence enough in them to nominate and elect them."

The letter gives grounds for the suspicion that Mr. Filley is laying his lines to capture the Civic Federation and make it part of his machine. The 34,000 voters already enrolled by that organization constitute a body that cannot be overlooked by party manipulators.

Dr. Boyd says that Mr. Filley cannot capture the Federation. After reading the "Boss" letter, through he admitted that he was certainly entitled to their applause. Continuing the President of the Federation said: "I regard this letter as a perfectly honest statement of Mr. Filley attitude toward the School Board. He realizes the present condition of the Board is one of thorough corruption; that the School Board ring is not a Republican or a Democratic present condition of the Board. He realizes the present condition of the Board is one of shorough corruption; that the School Board ring is not a Republican or a Democratic ring exclusively, but is made up of both Democrats and Republicans, who are on the School Board for reveaue only. The Clvic Federation has never made any stronger statement concerning the rotteness of the School Board and its need of reformation than Mr. Filley makes in this letter.

"Moreover, the very method of reform which he advocates, namely, taking the School Board out of the hands of the contractors and reorganizing it from top to bottom, because it is now above public control and a law unto itself, is the very object of the Federation in nominating the committee on the reform of the Board.

"It is a matter of hearty congratulation that so astute and experienced a politician as Mr. Filley now supports so cordially the aim and methods of the Civic Federation."

"I have it on the best of authority from everal parties with whom Mr. Filler contered before the election that he states in his letter the exact truth concerning the ecent city ticket and I do not doubt but that ad he been on deck at the city convention very different list of candidates would ave been presented for the Circuit Judges ominations.

have been presented for the Circuit Judges monimations.

"What pleases me most about this letter is the frank statement that 'it is about time for policical asprants to see and realize that they cannot cross public sentiment without making the party suffer for it. And that public party sentiment is neither to be coaxed, driven nor purchased. This is the precise attitude of the Civic Federation sentiments that are published in all our literature and re-echoed in all our clubs.

"When Mr. Filley says 'he has no slate for the spring election,' but that he is 'for competent and reliable Republicans, who will recollect that they were nominated for their competency and ability to conduct their offices,' every sincere Civic Federationist will give him a hearty cheer, for reading between the lines it would seem as if this letter were a timely warning for all incompetent or dishonest candidates for office to take a back seat in the approaching spring campaign, as they can receive no ald or assistance from the one man who in 'he recent past has led the Republicans of vis City to victory."

BIG INDUCEMENTS CLOTHING BUYERS

BY EXPRESS

Mr. F. B. Palmer, city editor of the Oskaloosa (Io.) Times, under date of May 5th, 1895, relates the following experience? "Recently I was compelled by a serious siege of dyspepsia to leave my office work, and thought to seek relief by a month's travel on the Pacific coast. The rest and change helped me somewhat, but I could find no relief for the awful fits of indigestion. When about to return home to Iowa I entered a prominent drug store in Tacoma, Wash., and asked for something that would bring relief from my indigestion. The druggist sold me a box of Ripans Tabules for 50 cents. In less than twenty-four hours I could feel a change for the better. From that day to this I have used Ripans Tabules whenever I felt my old ailment getting in its work, and with most commendable

WORK AT JEFFERSON CITY. The Post-Dispatch has received from Division 517, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of Sedalla, a special communication which appears in this issue. It asks the continued support of the Post-Dispatch in the effort to secure the passage of a Fellow Servant law in Missouri. The Post-Dispatch entertains no doubt hat a Fellow Servant law, satisfactory the labor interests of this State, will has a wandate from the people on that question, expressed in the majority which has not been "serious?" Are we to underwas given it in both branches of the Assembly. That majority is an indorsement of its efforts in this direction, during the ast session, when it controlled but one house, and of approval of its State platform declaration on that line. Such a mandate can neither be misunderstood nor disregarded.

As for the Post-Dispatch, it appreciates the confidence of the people and will continue, in the future as in the past, to be worthy of it, in this and in all other matters in which labor has a vital interest to protect against rapacity and oppression.

CANDID BOURKE COCKRAN.

Mr. Bourke Cockran probably expressed the real sentiments of all the leaders of the Boltocratic party when he said, in an interview the other day: "I am tired of masquerading as a tariff reformer, and will never again be found before the should at least insist on maintaining."

The People's Paper.

The People's Paper. public in that capacity."

After the Democrats of the West and South had forced tariff reform as an in national politics, the Democrats of the Northeast, after long protest and Randall, gave apparent assent to the party demand. They supported the party because it offered them better opportuni-ties for getting office than the Republicans held out. Tray used the issue for in recommending that all citizens should what it was worth, and made it pay them work together for the good of the country victory, and we are bound to support the stepublican policy." This is equivalent to saying that as the Republican party fur-nished nearly all the votes that elected McKinley, the boiting Democrats who served as their allies must accept the victory as a Republican victory and must support any policy to which the Republean party is committed.

And, in fact, this is the only way in mitted to return to the Democratic party except as penitents on probation. And they cannot remain in affiliation with is now preaching. Such is the only course left for the Boltocrats.

A NEW FORCE BILL

A significant statement appears in the Washington correspondence of the Chi-cago Times-Herald, whose editor is the confidential friend of Mr. McKinley, and whose Washington correspondent has shown that he has access to inside sources of information. The statement is as fol-

the President-sleet believe the coming administration will mark the enactment of a new election law, not a "force bill," but a comprehensive statute designed to prevent a recurrence of such election frauds as those which have cursed a number of Southern and border States during past national campaigns.

The animus of such a movement will be partly political and partly commercial. The iron and steel manufacturing industries of Pennsylvania and the textile manufacturing industries of New Eng. st the commercial development outh. The most obvio cline of venting the investment of capital there.

A perpetuation of race batted, with its accompanying evils, will serve well the purpose they have in view.

The political metive is that of carrying by force and oppression what they cannot carry on party issues as they are now raised and must remain until settled right. They may hope, too, to again arouse the sectional spirit in such States as Kansas and Nebraska, and to hold by that means their strength in other Northern States.

It is not unlikely that a new Force all!

SHERMAN SEES A GREAT LIGHT. Senator John Sherman of Ohio is one of those who are able to read the hand-writing on the wall when it is particularly plain and illuminating. In an interview sent out from Washington last night, he declared that it will be a great mistake not to pass the Dingley bill at once, because if some such measure is not passed providing for more revenue, President in President McKinley's place, when confronted with the above alternative, he would refuse to pay out part of the appropriations made by Congress, many of which are only permissive and not mandatory. And he adds this significant sentence: "It will said that the office of Secretary to the President acquired to the president acqui sentence: "It will never do to sell any more bonds in a time of peace."

This is demonstrative evidence that the Democratic campaign on the Chicago platform has not been fruitless. In the Senate and in the Treasury Department John Sherman has been for years the trusted agent of the International gold and bond syndicate. As recently as the last session of Congress he was in favor of authorizing the Government to issue gold bonds in a time of peace, and issue them in sufficient quantity to retire the greenbacks and treasury notes—in other words, to issue bonds exceeding in amount $500,000,000.

If this same John Sherman has in a few months been put through such a process of education that he now declares that but Thomas may not wish to be banished but Thomas may not wish to be banished "it will never do to sell any more bonds in a time of peace," it is evident that out of apparent defeat has already come partial victory to the Democratic party.

who as long ago as 1886 had a hundred trusts on his black list, and whose blood, shed by the Trusts, became the seed of the Cleveland church, we cry out against this injustice. Chicago and Kansas City divided that territory with us, but with proper railroad treatment we can hold the South and Southeast as our ewn. It is imperative that we get in there. It is imperative that we get in there. It is imperative that the railroads do the right thing and make public by a traffic association agreement their willingness to recognize St. Louis as a shipping point. If they haven't terminal facilities let them get them.

He said last night: "Sharkey did not strike a foul blow, to my mind. At the break he struck Fitzsimmons as soon as his arm was free, but that is following Queensoury rules. It is true that it was agreed that there was to be no fighting at the break, but by instructions from the club were not to be technical, but to give the audience a good fight for their money.

"I have one regret about the whole matmatter, and that is that I did not leave the ring when Julian objected to me. I thought of doing it, but it occurred to me that it would be showing the yellow to do that. I would be quitting under fire, and I made up my mind to stay until ordered off by the club. I am sorry that I acted as referee at all."

"I have nothing more to say in explanation," he said, "except we know for a certainty what we only surmised yesterday, and that is that members of the National Club were in this deal with Lynch and Sharkey to rob us, and what is more, we are going to prove it in court. Had it not been that I was saving my hands as much as possible, I would have put Sharkey out in the second round. His head is as hard as a bullet, and I must have landed on him there fully forty times. With my fight with Corbett in view, I did not think it worth while to punch my hands out of shape. In a rough and tumble scrap Sharkey might do a man some damage, as he is stocky and strong, but in a boxing contest or a ring battle no sane man would ever bet a dollar on him if there was a referee present who knew his business."

Police Commissioner Gunst its satisfied that the fight was "jobbed." So disgusted is he with the general result that he amsounced there will be no more fighting in San Francisco if his infidence can prevent it.

The Money Tied Up.

The check for $10,000, which was handed to Sharkey after the fight, is unpaid as yet and will have to pass through the courts before it will be cashed. Just how the fighters are going to bring the judiciary to decide a prize fight has not yet been explained, but it is clear that that is what they are going to try to do without admitting that it was a prize fight.

Sharkey is certainly injured seriously, but just from what cause has not been decided fully. The report of the doctors after a consultation was as follows:

"We find oedema, or swelling of the scrotum, on the right side, extending partially to the left; also, two small ecchymotic spots, or discolorations, about one-half way down the right side of the scrotum."

This clearly indicates that Sharkey was bruised in some way unless the theory that he was doctored is accepted.

The homes of many peaceable citizens were entered after the town had gone to bed. It is known that at least 25 persons were arrested and hurried off to prison.

Nearly all of Eastern Cuba is in the hands of the Cubans, save the city. The Spanish policy of arresting citizens suspected of sympathy with the inaurgents has long since spread its terrors among all classes. These recent arrests are further evidences of General Weyler's determination to wage war on citizens in their homes, as well as on the armed bodies in the field.

No one can learn any definite reason for the sudden arrests. There were three women among the prisoners. All were locked in the pail, "incomunicados," and many were sent to Moro Castle, Among the captives were a doctor, two lawyers and four merchants. 'I Fine You $200; I Wish the Law Allowed Me to Make It More!"

Said Judge Peabody. Seldom has a story been told in Police Court equal to that related by Mary Clark Friday morning and never before has a story been told in court which moved old Clerk McEnnis to genuine tears. The old clerk of the Police Court has listened to many a tale of sorrow. He was not the only listener in court who dried his tears with a handkerchief, and the hardened, crusty old-timers, who had aban-doned the use of handkerchiefs or who never had any, checked the flow of tears with their sleeves.

Mary Clark, 16 years old, weak and frail. starved and cold, appeared on the witness stand and testified against her father, James Clark, drunkard and brute. Mary is the oldest of three children, the others being aged 5 and 8 years, respec-tively. Two years ago their mother died was a teamster, moved the household good NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Santiago, Cuba, and the three children to 624 South Garri-

Three days after the mother's death Clark used his lead-handled black-enake and did not stop until each child was black and blue.

He said that was simply to show them that he was the boss to be obeyed.

Beatings after that were frequent. A sound thrashing, fearful cursing and little to eat were common in the Clark home.

When Mary testified that never had her father on any day left more than 10 cents in the house with which to buy food for the three children she broke down in sobs. There were others in the court-room who cried with her.

Last Saturday Clark left the house, as usual, to go to his work, and left with Mary the customary dime. He did not return until Thursday morning. Driven out by hunger Mary took the children to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Burker, where they were kept. Thursday morning Clark returned. He found Mary, and, in the presence of Mrs. Burker and several other women, he clinched her throat, lifted her frail body up in the air, and, pushing her against the wall, said:

"Tm mad enough to stick a knife into you."

He was angry because she had begged

CAUSES OF THE REVOLT.

The President and Congress Charged With Irregularities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—The Uruguayan revolution was not unexpected in South American circles in Washington, as the President and Congress of Uruguay have been openly charged for several months with extensive irregularities, similar in some extent to the canal scandal in the French Chamber. Mail reports received here from Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital, gives these charges of official corruption with circumstantial detail, and the press of the capital is full of charges and "jobs," "commissions," "margins" and misappropriations of public funds running up to millions, Statements from the Montevideo press show the extent of public feeling leading to the revolution.

Another St. Louis girl who has abandoned the stage for married life is Miss Marte Glover. She was a leading choir singer in St. Louis a decade ago, and graduated on the operatic stage. Her sister, Kitty Glover, is quite a well known soubrette, and has been with one of Hoyt's companies for several years.

All new potients who apply on medicines, without any additional charge whatever. This is to all patients and for all diseases. It applies to old as well as new patients, and will be maintained in each case until a cure is effected. That is—

Miss Glover has not been on the road for a season or two past, as she had a lucrative engagement as soprano of the Sacred Heart Church, New York. She was married late in November to Mr. John B. Miller, a wealthy South Carolinian, who has business interests in New York. Miss Glover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, were well knewn in local musical circles some years ago. Mr. Sullivan was a famous choir tenor. His wife was a daughter of Dr. Glover, the noted Irish composer.

All new patients who apply before Jan. 1st, and all patients who renew their treatment before that time, will be treated until cured at a uniform rate of $3 a month.

Such an offer as this has never been given before, and it will never be given again. It is given simply to carry out Dr. Copeland's purpose above stated. It is open it all. No restrictions are placed upon it.

Dr. Henry Schooley, a guest at the Plant ess' Hotel, while wandering around the "Bad Lands," at 3 o'clock Thursday morn-"Bad Lands," at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, was held up by two highwaymen at Sixth and Elm streets and robbed of a valuable gold watch.

Edward Houser, who was passing by on the opposite side of the street, witnessed the hold-up. When the robbers fied he gave chase and captured the one who had the watch. A struggle followed, which resulted in Houser wresting the watch from the thet's grasp. The latter escaped.

The robbers pounced upon Schooley as he was passing a dark alley. Before they left him they struck him several blows on the head with the butt of a revolver, causing severe scalp wounds.

Thursday evening Joseph, allas "Kid" Griffin, was arrested in a Sixth street dive charged with being implicated in the robbery. He was identified later by Schooley as one of the highwaymen. His confederate is said to be Charles, alias "Mosey" Fox, a well-known police character.

cided to make their marriage public. Then they sat down and wrote to their respective parents. Mr. and Mrs. Conroy were a little nurt that their daughter had been married secretly. Otherwise there was no objection to the match, as their daughter and Mr. Alexander had been engaged for two years. He spent the greater part of last winter here visiting relatives.

Miss Conroy was one of the best known choir singers in St. Louis. Four years ago she went to New York to study for the stage. She secured a road engagement with De Wolf Hopper, and during the summer season sang here at the Cave. The second season she was with Lillian Lewis, but left the company here because Miss Lewis insisted that she should wear tights and pose in living pictures. She then joined the Della Fox company. Miss Conroy's last engagement was with the "Derby Winner" She left the company at Cincinnati last January and went to New York, where she joined a laddes' questrette and sang in concerts and church choirs. Mrs. Conroy says she suspected something was in the wind when her daughter wrote that she had refused a good offer for a six months' road engagement, and another from a prominent Brooklyn church.

Mr. Alexander met Miss Conroy while he was attending a theatrical school in New York City. When he declared his love, Miss Conroy refused to entertain his suit until he abandoned the theatrical profession. So the young man went to work. Next she insisted on his becoming a Roman Catholic. He did that, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Corroy feel reasonably assured that their little girl is well able to take care of herself.

Some of Them Think That Niedringhaus and Others Ought to Pay for Their Injured Employes.

Physicians in North St. Louis object to the use to which the North Side branch of the Dispensary is put. whose factories are located nearby.

One physician says that when the branc was established it was supposed to be for the exclusive use of those who were too poor to pay for the services of a physician. As it is, Niedringhaus and such corporations as the Malinckrodt Chemical Works, the Buck Stove Co., and other wealthy corporations reap the benefit to the detriment of the practicing physician.

When an employe in any of these establishments is injured the physician holds that the company should call a physician and bear the expense. The rule now is that when an employe is injured he is packed off to the Dispensary, and his injuries are dressed at the city's expense.

Dr. Edward F. Randall is one of the staff of Dispensary physicians. He admits that most of the employes injured in the various factories in the neighborhood of the Dispensary have their wounds dressed there. But he does not think the criticism well founded.

"It makes no difference to us who the na-Buck Stove Co., and other wealthy cor-there. But he does not think the criticism well founded.

"It makes no difference to us who the patient is," said Dr. Randall. "If he be a millionaire or a pauper the treatment is precisely the same. This is an emergency dispensary and we dress the wounds of all who are brought to us without stopping to ask questions.

"However, after the patient is treated, we invariably ascertain if he is able to employ a physician. If he is he will not be treated again by the dispensary physicians we treat him until he is well.

"As a matter of fact the number of persons injured in the factories is quite small. It will not amount to 5 per cent of our patients. Most of our surgical work comes on Saturday night and Sunday, at times when the factories are shut down. And these factory hands, when they are injured, usually are able to employ a physician, and after the first treatment we are seldom called upon to do more for them. I think they are sent to the Dispensary not so much to save money as to save life and limb. There is at all times a surgeon on watch here, and ready at a moment's notice for the most difficult operation. A physician with a large private practice cannot be found always, and valuable time would be lost in waiting for him.

"Since the branch was established on Sept. 14, 1896, we have treated 4,894 cases.

It was decided to go into executive session and hold all future meetings behind closed doors.

The Swigerts had never been in St. Louis before and they concluded to stop over and see the sights. They arrived in this city Tuesday and obtained a furnished room at Mrs. J. M. Juste's, 1710 Chestnut street.

Thursday night they went to Havlin's Theater. When they returned to their room after the show they found that it had been entered. Their trunk had been opened and ransacked. The guns were too cumbersome for the burglars, and they contented themselves with two fine revolvers.

The opinion of the French dramatic critics is not in accord with the estimate of Mr. Henry James, Jr., who, in a paper on De Musset, published some years ago, says that "Lorenzaccio" is "the strongest, if not the most exquisite of his (De Musset's) dramatic attempts." The Parisian criticism of the piece seems to be a curious avowal that the genius of the De Musset school is really out of fashion, and that the realists and decadents more than hold their own in France.

This was the decision reached Friday morning by President Spencer of the Merchants' Exchange and Secretary Leeds of the Merchants' Exchange Transportation Committee. They discussed the matter at length in President Spencer's office.

There are only three lines west of the Mississippi Blyer which do a direct business.

Mississippi River which do a direct business to the Guif and make through rates to Gulf points as well as to St. Louis. These are the Missouri Pacific, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, and the St. Louis & San Francisco. The Wabash and the Burlington both bill direct to St. Louis from Western grain points, but have no through service to the connecting points, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Secretary Leeds, at a special meeting held on 'Change Thursday afternoon, was instructed to meet the traffic managers of lines carrying Gulf consignments from the West and invite them to a conference with a special committee of five appointed by the Merchants Exchange, consistency of C. H. Spencer, E. O. Stanard, W. P. Kennett, H. C. Haarstick and Jerome Hill.

As a result of his meeting with President Spencer, Secretary Leeds will also invite the traffic representatives of the Wabash and Burlington roads to the conference.

"I think," he said Friday, "it will be to our best interests to make the roads billing to St. Louis, but not to the Gulf, parties to the conference. It seems to me that these roads are more interested in their trade direct to St. Louis than in the business they do with Gulf points through connecting lines, it is certainly more to their interest to haul grain to St. Louis than to turn it over to a connecting line at an intermediate point. Of course, I don't know the exact attitude of these roads with regard to the readjustment of rates to Gulf points. As I see it, they should be friendly to us from motives of self-interest if for no other reason.

see it, they should be friendly to us from motives of self-interest if for no other reason.

"At least I think we will lose nothing by making them parties to the conference.

"Under the present system of differentials the lines which do not bill through to the Gulf lose about I cents a hundred on grain shipped from Kansss points, to connections with Gulf lines. Take, for instance, a shipment of grain from Concordia, Kan, delivered to the Frisco at Atchison by the M., K. & T. Take from Concordia to Atchison is 14 cents per 100 pounds. The Frisco raie over the Santa Fe route from Concordia to Gulf points it is 25 cents, and from Atchison to Gulf points 21 cents, and from Atchison to Gulf points 22 cents, and from Atchison to Gulf points 21 cents a 100 on grain destined to the Gulf. The M., K. & T., has to accept 12 cents a 100 on grain destined to the Gulf from Concordia via Atchison, though its own local rate is 14 cents.

"On direct shipments to St. Louis the differential does not act in this way, and the M. K. & T. gots its shift schedule rate, This applies also to the Wabash, and I think it possible that both roads will aid us in seeking a readjustment of the grain rates to New Orleans.

"Personally, I realize that we have a very hard task before us. There is no sentiment about railroads and unless they have some motive of self-interest in changing the rates they will not do so. The present tariff has been in effect for six weeks and in that time St. Louis has been able to do practically no grain or cotton business in the West and Southwest."

Board Will Consider the Matter on Sat-

LIGHTING THE CITY.

Il a. m. Friday, but Mr. Milner and Mr. Ridgley failed to appear, and as the meeting could not be held without the legal twenty-four hours' written notice unless this was waived by them, it was not held. Secretary Foster was instructed to send written notices of a meeting to be held at 11:30 Saturday.

The meeting is called by request of the Committee on Lighting. It has drawn up a form of contract and three sets of specifications under which to ask bids on city lighting for twenty years, from Jan. 1, 1900, but it wants the board to pass upon them in committee of the whole.

It is the sense of the committee that bids should be asked for under the three sets of specifications at once, but the other members of the board may not agree with them. Bids will be asked for on the basis of the estimated number of each kind or both kinds of lights which will be necessary to light the city in 1800. The board will recommend to the Assembly that the contract be awarded to the lowest bidder, no matter on what system he bids.

Supervisor of Lighting O'Reilly has computed that in the year 1900 it will require ...00 are lamps to light the city properly. The is now working on the estimate for the mixed system, which is a more complicated task.

Under the mixed system are lights will nixed system, which is a liste to be ask.

Under the mixed system are lights will be placed only on the streets where it is believed they will be most serviceable. In Mr. O'Reilly's estimation this should include all the down town streets on which street cars run. He anticipates, however, that if the contract is awarded on the mixed system, it will be very hard to please everybody. On every street there will be people who want are lights and others who don't want them.

Frank Ottofy appeared for Mr. Larimore and Virgil Rule for Mrs. Larimore and Mrs. Nanny Garrison, her mother.

There were a number of society women and several well-known gentlemen in court as witnesses.

Jacob Furth advised caution in seeking a readjustment. The railroads, in his opinion, should be given a fair chance to state their views. He believed that St. Louis comment of the railroads were shown.

School Board Directors Have Suffered Great Mental Anguish and Must Be Paid, Too.

suffered and the expense they were put to in fighting the suit.

The board and the Peck-Williamson company think that $4,000 between them would be about right.

Each of the defendants have filed a motion with Judge Valliant to assess damages, that of the Peck-Williamson company, filed Thursday afternoon, specifying $1,000 and that of the board, filed Friday, mentioning $3,000 as the amount it has been damaged.

Both motions are aimed at Mr. Berry and at Judge James E. McKeighan, R. M. Scruggs, August Gehner, B. Eiseman, Adam Boeck and D. D. Walker, sureties on his $5,000 injunction bond.

The School Board asks damages in its own behalf and in behalf of President Henry Bus and Secretary James Y. Player individually.

To a Post-Dispatch reporter Lawyer S. C. Terry of counsel for the School Board stated Friday that the damages were figured for the board on the expense of securing testimony, counsel fees and the rental of the rooms kept idle by reason of the injunction suit which prevented their equipment with heating plants.

As to what part of the damages were credited to the fees of special counsel, Mr. Terry maintained that to be a professional secret.

The motion on behalf of the Peek-Williamson Co. specifies counsel fees, traveling texpenses of witnesses and of the President and Manager of the company, and also the loss of time of the company's two officers. The motion sets out that the company assisted in the defense, although not formally a party to the suit, because they were notified by the Board that their interests were imperilled and that any decree of the Court against the Board, in the case, would affect them also. The amount of counsel fees paid by the company is not mentioned in its motion.

It is unferstood that Circuit Judge-elect Daniel D. Fisher represented the company.

cians and intelligent amateurs, filled fourfifths of the hall. Every one was eager to hear the results of Mr. Humphrey's studies abroad. He more than fulfilled expectations. The highly gifted amateur has returned an artist.

The program might have been differently constructed to its advantage. Mr. Herman Epstein, who assisted Mr. Humphrey, might have played a Beethoven sonata, or group of shorter compositions by any good master or masters before the recital proper began. This would have prepared the soil for all the beautiful flowers that were to bloom in the course of the concert. As it was the audience was hardly prepared for the poetic and tender "Nussbaum" by Schumann, whose very leaves whisper and sing of poess and love.

Gradually, however, the hearers warmed to the singer and the following numbers by the same master, "Lotus Flower," "Volkslied," "Ich Grolle Nicht," were tistened to with increasing interest and delight. After this came a group of Rubinstein songs of which "Der Traum" was the most enjoyable. At this juncture Mr. Epstein played an interesting value by Nicode, the Dresden conductor-composer, and an "Appassionata," with a strong Wagnerian flavor, by H. Hoffmann. Behubert's "Eriking" brought the first part of the concert to a close.

The second half of the programme was devoted to ultra modern writers (with the exception of the quaint "Plaisir d'Amour" of Padre Martini), Nevin, D'Hardelot, Denzos, Cornelius, Enlert, McDoweil and Strelezki, But the Schumann numbers were the

At the last session of Congress National President John A. Lee of the T. P. A. appeared before a Congressional committee and argued for the granting of permission to the railroads for the concession so badly needed by the traveling fraternity. A bill was passed embodying this permission. The fight then lay with the roads and it has been a hard battle. The T. P. A. has been joined by the Western Commercial Travelers and other traveling men's and business men's associations.

President Lee is delighted with the result of the work of his association.

"We are elated over our success," he said, "because it means that the interchangeable ticket will at an early day be saued by nearly every road in the country, and association, which includes hig Western lines, will soon adopt the ticket, in which over the every road in the country will be forced to come in. SLATTERY DROWNING CASE.

The deposition of the only eye witness to the drowning of the late Capt. D. P. Slattery at King's Lake, April 20, 1896, was filed in Judge Withrow's court Friday.

in Judge Withrow's court Friday.

The proceedings were held at King's Lake, Nov. 24, in behalf of the plaintiff in the suit of Francis B. Aglar, as guardian of Ruth and Susic L. Slattery, Mary C. Slattery and Lizzle S. Aglar, against the United States Casualty Co. of New York, for $10,000 on two policies held by Mr. Slattery. They were before Samuel N. Marks and Lawyers Noble & Shields appeared for the plaintiff and Pollard & Werner for the insurance company.

The witness was Saul Vance, a fisherman, 70 years old, whose story was told in the Post-Dispatch shortly after the tragedy. He testified to having seen a man sailing up and down the lake in a yawl, the boat turning over when it was just below the club house of the St. Louis Game and Fish Preserve Association. When the boat capsized the man clung to the upper side a good while, then lost his grasp. He seemed to strike out for the west shore, and Vance thought he reached it. Vance heard the man call to him.

Vance explained that he did not go to the sition, "I I had known, I could have saved him."

The cross-examination by Mr. Werner was intended to discredit Vance's story by the presumption that what he saw occurred on another occasion than the drowning of Capt. Slattery, his memory as to time being defective, also that it was Grimes, not Slattery, he saw. On redirect examination Vance deposed that the boat was at a snag when it turned over, and seemed to be about to run against it. On recross-examination he said he thought the wind turned the boat over, as it had very heavy sail on. The boat he said, was within easy swimming distance of the west shore, but he supposed the man in the boat might have held on so long in the water before striking out that he was seized with cramp.

The answer of the insurance company in the case is a contract to the saw and the case.

Angry Because Uncle Sam Has Taken Away Their Revenue Agent.

Tobacco manufacturers in and around Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue who sold them stamps at Louisiana has been dismissed for the sake of economy. The office was abolished a few days ago and tobacco manufacturers in Northeast Missouri have to buy stamps in St. Louis. That means that they must anticipate their business by a few days and send money for stamps that much sooner than they were obliged to do when they could get atamps near home. George Lynott has been Deputy Collector at Louisiana. He got only $50 a month from the Government, but he is assistant cashier of a bank, and hence was not wholly dependent on Uncle Sam.
Acting Collector of Internal Revenue Cleveland says that the office at Louisiana was abolished by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, whose office is in Washington. Mr. Cleveland says the action was done in the interest of economy. Tobacco manufacturers at Louisiana and Clarkaville bought $500 worth of revenud stamps in St. Louis Friday. That was the amount of Lynott's yearly salary. The office at Louisiana and clarkaville bought as collected on an average of $3,000 a month. puty Collector of Internal Revenue who Mayor Sunkel's attention was called to he facts and by his orders proceedings rese stopped. There was a lengthy confernce at the City Hall, at which some pointed criticisms were made of the practice of suing permits for the removal of some copie and not for the removal of others, ut finally the matter was compromised by people and not for the removal of others but finally the matter was compromised by the payment of $10, and the wagons were permitted to depart in peace. The interference was instigated by local owners of moving wagons.

He was drunk and hurled vile epithets at the barkeeper and spectators. He was arrested and Nov. 5 he appeared in the police court. There was no disposition to prosecute and at Block's request the 'City Attorney entered a noile prosse.

Gallagher objected. He hadn't violated any law. He insisted on a trial and wanted vindication. The City Attorney was w.l.ing and the case was contanued at his request. and Fireman Chas. Fox suffered a seriou fracture of his left arm in a collision in the upper yards at St. Clair avenue in East St.

Engine No. 47, in charge of Pilot George Godfrey, was pulling a local freight train that came in ahead of the New York Express, At a siding at St. Clair avenue the yard crew had left a stock car standing in the clear, with, just enough of the car protruding to cause an immense amount of damage, and a great deal of confusion for nearly two hours. Godfrey could not see the car, as there is a pronounced curve at the point where the collision took place. The left side of the engine was a total wreck, and the cab was knocked into slivers. The stock car was also a complete wreck, and traffic on the Collinsville avenue electric line was suspended until the wreckage was cleared.

Fireman Fox will carry his arm in a sling for several weeks, Both the engineer and fire mean jumped, and the latter was injured in this manner, the engineer escaping with a few slight beruises.

The company's damages will not exceed $2,000. Engine No. 47, in charge of Pilot George SCARE ON THE VANDALIA.

Appointment of Counsel Williams Forbodes Changes at the Top.

The appointment of John G. Williams to be general counsel for the Vandalia system, which has just been announced by Receiver Malott, has thrown a deep-dyed streak of anxiety through the local officials and employes of the road.

Mr. Williams was formerly Vice-President and General Manager of the system. Later he was the attorney who brought suit on behalf of the bondholders of the Terre Haute & Peoria to collect interest due on the bonds September 1. This proceeding resulted in the appointment of a receiver for the entire Vandalla system.

It was thought at the time that the Pennsylvania was back of the move, but the contrary developed in court. Then Judge Woods turned down the Pennsylvania candidate for the receivership and named Mr. Malott, an Indianapolis banker. He in turn made Mr. Williams his right-hand man. This means a return to the McKeen-Williams management that has been abused so violently by the Pennsylvania officials.

Mr. Williams' appointment means radical changes, especially among the higher salaried officials. The Pennsylvania system of expenses at the top will be abolished and several division superintendents and their little cabinets will be wiped out in the effort to make the property pay expenses.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—The Pennsylvania combine which controlled the organization of the House last year has fixed up a plan whereby the office of Sergeantal-Arms may still remain as Missouri's share of the patronage.

Congressman Murphy of East St. Louis, who was defeated for re-election by Jehu Baker, and who at once became a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms to succeed Ben Russell of Crawford County, is now said to be out of the way. He is booked, according to Russell's friends, for Warden of the Southern Illinois Penitentiary under the administration of John R. Tanner, Governore-lect.

Russell's backers are jubilant over this latest deal and insist that with Murphy out of the way and with Illinois divided, he is salmost sure of re-election, on the theory that Murphy will accept the State office rather than run the risk of a bout with the "Combine."

He was heard to cry and the stableman and two other employes ran out to where his wagon stood. Bischoff was unconscious on the ground in a pool of blood. No one else was around. The horses were standing still in position. Other witnesses testified that tramps from the neighboring railroad yards had often come into the yard and that many thefts had resulted thereby. The employes had had many fights with tramps who refused to get out of the yards.

The police were notified by the Coroner that Bischoff had probably been murdered, but it did not seem to be inspiration sufficient to move the department to any unusual activity.

At the time of her divorce she was awarded the custody of the only child, a girl then 4 years old. When the girl was old enough Mrs. Rumsey put her in the convent at Maryville, and took in sewing to pay for her education. Last June-Mrs. Rumsey, found that, as her daughter grew older, she needed greater care than she was able to afford her.

She wrote to her former husband, who had married again, and told him that she was willing to give up the girl. On June 6 last, at the instance of Mrs. Rumsey, Mr. Rumsey was given possession of his daughter.

After that she did not figure on the bills of the company.

According to the management of the company Mrs. Rumsey's loss was not keenly felt.

Stage Manager Phil Peters says Mrs. Rumsey never did melt much lee, anyway.

"Why, say," he said, "that woman couldn't act a little bit. She had no idea of stage business. When we started out, seven weeks ago, we applied to a Cincinnati thesitrical agency for a woman for a soubrette part. They wired us that they had a 'Miss Rumsey' on their list. They thought she would fill the bill and we took them to send her on.

"She joined us at Chicago. She said she was worth 345 a week and we engaged her at that figure. She went on as the leading lady on opening night and, say, she was the worst frost you ever saw. She nearly killed the show right there. The next night she was in the chorus at $15 per week.

"I was sorry for her, but she couldn't fill the leading part. She has a good drawing-room voice, 'but she has no business on the stage."

"She continued to sing in the chorus and was apparently satisfied until she heard we were coming to St. Louis. We were then in Tolder. n Toledo.
"She demanded that I let her play the leading part while in St. Louis, I refused and she balked right there.

"The next thing I knew she had sued the company for $30, which she said was due her on salary. As a matter of fact she had overdrawn her salary that much. She owed the company $30. She never had any-body arrested, but I understand she tried to get a warrant for my arrest.

INSANE PATIENT AND NEGRO.

Fight Desperately in the Hospital Observation Ward.

A Work-house prisoner and an insane patient at the City Hospital fought a desperate battle in the observation ward Thursperater battle in the observation ward Thursday afternoon.

William Hopkins is a burly negro who was serving a sentence at the Work-house for larceny. Three weeks ago he got malaria and was sent to the hospital for treatment. He has about recovered and Dr. Sutter says he is the most troublesome person an the building.

Fred Wolf is a young white man who has been under observation for two weeks. He does not know who he is nor where he came from. He is very quiet and gives his keepers but little trouble.

Thursday afternoon Wolf left his cot for a few minutes. When he returned Hopkins had taken possession of it. He was asked to vacate but refused in an insolent manner. Wolf threatened to call a guard. Hopkins said if he did he would whip him. Wolf started to the door and the big negro arose and grappled with him.

They fought all around the room. The other patients watched the fight, but did not infert re. Neither fighter made outery and the guard knew nothing of the sorimmage.

After fighting for nearly five minutes the white man's strength gave way and the segre gave him a shove. Wolf fell across is iren cot. His coilar bone struck the ton making and the bone was broken.

When the guard entered Wolf was made amfortable and Hopkins was strapped to a cat. He was sent back to the Work-house riday.

SHE HAS MANY AILMENTS.

Chief of Them, However, Is an Enormous Beer Jag.

Alice Melville is at the City Hospital suf-bring from a whole lot of aliments. The aspital physicians only take cognizance one, and are treating her for alcohol-or at 1217 Carroll street. It cannot be ruthfully said she is pretty. Even if nothing lise alled her, her hair lip would spoil her, and there are other disfiguring marks. A lig red birthmark on the left side of the ace does not add to her beauty, and her protruding teeth enhance her ugliness. But beauty is only skin deep, and Alice's roubles go further than mere facial dislaurements.

Alice has an intestinal disorder, she says. Alice has an intestinal disorder, she says. She is not fond of it, and when a friend told her that beer would prove fatal to it she set about industriously to destroy it. She swallowed divers large cans, and as a consequence became gloriously drunk. The jar had disappeared Friday morning, but the disorder and her other allments were with Alice as of yore.

The stamach pump was produced. Ann recognized the instrument of torture and rebeiled. Although half a dozen guards and attendants were attempting to hold her she broke away and made a dash for liber.
